Navigating the Future with Confidence

Why offshoring?

All industries are under pressures due to increasing customer demands, tougher competition and the need to increase profitability and shareholder value. Offshoring can help your company attain these goals by moving costly administrative work abroad. Offshoring can help you to

- Improve service
- Improve cost management
- Reduce complexity
- Reduce head count
- Attain a consistent service level
- Retain customer retention and satisfaction

Offshoring Customer Service Management leads to improved cost management while retaining service levels. The next step involves taking the offshoring beyond cost savings and looking at re-engineering business processes. Offshoring can become a powerful tool for business transformation once you combine cost savings with other productivity and revenue generating levers

Building on an excellent reputation in maintaining customer relationships and operating customer service infrastructures throughout Asia makes Global Blue an ideal alliance partner delivering high quality outsourced solutions at competitive rates.

About Global Blue

Global Blue Strategic Partners is a Business-to-Business (B2B) Joint Venture between Blue Business Solutions Ltd, a company incorporated in Thailand and The Durward Group of Australia. Global Blue offers global administrative Business Process Outsourcing (BPO) solutions to companies wishing to reengineer their business to reduce their costs and at the same time increase output and efficiency of the company.

The core business areas we work within are Loyalty Programmes, Aviation, Utilities, Management Consulting, Fraud Prevention and Transport and Shipping

Global Blue has its core competences in:

- Customer Programme Management
- Data Mining
- Management Reporting
- System Monitoring and Error Reporting
- Data Quality Control
- General administrative duties

Consultancy Services are also offered for companies establishing themselves in Asia as well as to companies undergoing restructuring and implementing efficiency programmes. Finally, Global Blue is capable of providing individual tailored solutions.

In co-operation with NavComp of Sweden, Global Blue is providing leading edge online credit card fraud prevention and detection. Identifying fraud and fraud patterns can be a tedious and time-consuming process. By offshoring such work, scarce resources at corporate headquarters can be used to analyse data rather than compiling information.

Why Thailand?

Thailand has been identified in latest survey by Hewitt & Associates, an American HR Company, as a country that will become a leading offshoring destination.

In 2007, the World Bank ranked Thailand number 15 globally for ease of doing business, a better score than most Asian countries and several European countries.

Thailand enjoys a strategic location right at the heart of Asia. It is only four time zones away from the Australian business centres and six time-zones away from Central Europe.

Thailand's infrastructure is being consciously geared up for foreign business. Improved and modernised communications and IT networks ensure optimum business conditions.

Thailand fulfils many of the key factors required for an attractive offshoring destination:

- Young, abundant talent
- Sustained cost competitiveness
- Healthy and manageable turnover rates
- Emphasis on quality, information security
- Enabling Business Policy and regulations
- Well developed infrastructure

Global Blue's staff

Our staff are recruited as graduates from the country's leading universities. They are exceptionally diligent and hard working, repeatedly delivering results with high accuracy. They are able to work independently in unified teams and have a desire to reach their full potential in a logical and structured manner. Global Blue's staffing mission is to create employment opportunities for young, well educated, university graduates and to nurture their future value. The staff are our most valuable asset. Building on traditional Asian family values and western ideology, staff are provided with optimal working conditions and a fair compensation

Global Blue's management

Our management has more than 40 years of senior international corporate experience working with multicultural teams across Asia. We understand what is needed to achieve optimal results. We are able to clearly communicate with our customers abroad and thereby delivering products that meet their needs. Our management skill sets enable us to be the innovators of improving business processes and catalysts for bridging the different cultures
